

Spiritual thinking

About the Course:

The course takes you in a logical manner through the concepts of soul, mind, life and matter. It explains how each is a different level of energy, how they interact and evolve. The spiritual background is provided to show the truth of spiritual knowledge so that one's conditioning based on the current knowledge is removed. I put the knowledge of spirituality in perspective by showing its relation to the current scientific knowledge.

I explain the concept of mind and how mind works in some detail. I show the relation of the mind to the inner self and external reality and how it can be influenced by both. Our thoughts are created after a tussle between the inner self and the external reality. The tussle between the spiritual and the physical is a pervasive theme in physical existence.

Gaining right knowledge is a basic step towards unconditioned thinking. After the above basic steps I teach practical methods that one can practice to rid of the shackles of the mind.

Last but not the least, the logical grounding in concepts such as the soul, the mind are illustrated in an empirical way using spiritual power.

The highlights of the course thus are the way in which two seemingly divergent disciplines such as science and spirituality are actually combined as a whole, the use of practical approaches that help us break away from the insidious conditioning of thinking that most of us are in and the use of spiritual power to empirically illustrate the concepts.

But it must be emphasized that the spiritual perspectives result only on one's original experiences, and what we do is only facilitate the creation of spiritual perspectives.

Right now we conduct only online/correspondence course and the course fee is Rs.1000.

About the Author:

Srinivasan Vaidyaraman has a graduate degree in Computer Science from UT Austin. He currently coaches students for the GRE, GMAT and similar exams. Additionally, he helps people in their health and other problems using his spiritual power.

Srinivasan has used his own insights in spirituality along with ancient wisdom and science to develop this course that will positively change the lives of the people. With his personal insights in spirituality he is able to put the spiritual knowledge in proper relation with the current knowledge of science.

Contact Srinivasan Vaidyaraman at : sravnatestprep@gmail.com if you would like to join the course.